

ABOUT THE BRASS MENAGERIE

Brass Menagerie is the complete source for all your brass music needs. From solo and herald trumpets to brass quintet and concert band: we have the look and sound you are searching for. Our musicians are seasoned professionals, active on Broadway and the concert stage and experienced in the differing musical needs of the classical world and corporate, civic, and private events.

A variety of costumes are available to provide the right look for your event: from traditional tuxedos and red marching band jackets to Renaissance, Edwardian and 1776 regalia. Brass Menagerie's vast library of music adds just the right touch of brass to any occasion from Bach, to Broadway, to holiday carols.

The popular "Herald", (fanfare), trumpets are available. These long-bell, polished brass trumpets, as seen in the movies when the King's entrance is announced, are typically used in groups of two, three and four players and are decorated with red and gold banners hanging from the bell. They can be used in a variety of settings including: the start of a ceremony, inauguration, presentation or unveiling, or to announce the entrance of a dignitary or bride and groom. They make a striking appearance and often, the trumpeters are attired in Renaissance costumes.

Whatever your vision of brass music for your event, you are sure to find what you are looking for with Brass Menagerie Ensembles.
